

A scatter plot showing the relationship between two variables, 4101 and 34. The plot features a grid background. A red line represents a linear regression fit, showing a positive correlation. The data points are represented by blue dots, with a dense cluster in the upper right quadrant.